ATHLETIES WIN OPENING GAME

Defeat Giants in Initial Struggle by Score of Six to Four.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Crowd of 40,000 People Crowd Polo Grounds to Full Capacity. Heavy Hitting Wins.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 7.—The Athletics were winners over the New York Giants in the initial game of the world's series played here today. The final score was 6 to 4 in favor of the Athletics. Marquard for the New Yorks, and Bender for the Athletics.

The score by innings:

Athletics 0 0 0 3 2 0 0 1 0
Giants 0 0 1 0 2 1 0 0 0

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 7.—As darkness gave way to dawn and the first gray streaks of light filtered over the Polo Grounds today, nearly 3,000 tired-eyed, rabid baseball fans stirred uneasily in five separate lines waiting for the chance to buy the first tickets for the opening clash between the Gianites and Athletics. Their gaze looked upward. It "looked like rain." In fact, it drizzled.

As the mist became heavier umbrellas were put up in the crowd. The throng grew momentarily. Of the 3,000 who were on hand at 8 o'clock, more than 500 had waited throughout the night. Fifty or seventy-five women arrived between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning and took up their position of the line of watchers. Small boys, anxious to sell their places, as the hour for the opening of the gates approached, occupied the choice positions. There were probably 250 youngsters ,tired and sleepy, but loudly calling the attention of the newcomers to their places.

One boy sold his place for $3. As time wore on, however, prices declined and the average was about $1 for a place in the line by 9 o'clock. With drizzle and dark, lowering clouds, the best the weather man could offer, speculation as to the pitching choice of Manager McGraw, of the Giants, was increased ten-fold.

STORM IN ALASKA.

Two Miles of Territory Next to the Sea Devastated.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Fire has broken out in the storm-stricken city of Nome, and the flames have attacked the Pacific Cold Storage plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed by the gale.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Nome has been almost destroyed by a storm. All the south side of Front street is gone. The sandspit is gone. Two miles of territory next to the sea was devastated. No lives were lost.

The storm that last night began beating in from Behring Sea was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric light plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

There will be much suffering and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand, and it will be impossible to get in supplies needed.

The steamships Victoria and Corwin, which were lying in the roadstead, ran to the open sea and escaped damage. All the small boats on the beach were destroyed.. Five hundred houses have been demolished and more are falling.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Arthur Lilly, 9 years old, was playing with a shotgun in the kitchen at the home of his parents at Fairchance, a few miles from Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday when the weapon was accidentally discharged, killing his sister, Miss Mary Esther Lilly, 19 years old.

Two men, one well dressed and the other shabby, kidnaped Ellen Stiffler, a pretty nine-year-old girl, as she was about to enter St. Mary's Catholic parochial school in York, Pa., yesterday. Although the police and a detective agency are at work upon the case, they have failed to find any clue as to the child's whereabouts.

Eugene H. Taggart, a Washington real estate broker, who is alleged to have promoted the Washington Lumber Company, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of false pretenses. It is alleged that he sold $3,500 worth of the corporation's stock by representing that the company owned 84,000,000 feet of standing timber in Craig, Giles, and Powhatan counties, Va.; operated six saw mills and other machinery, and that its profits were large. He also, it is alleged, represented that three directors of the company, one of whom was stated to be Dr. J. Ramsey Nevitt, had each invested $40,000, and that the company had consolidated with the American Lumber Company.

Mrs. Ida G. Legeson, art student, whose nude body was found on the prairie west of Chicago, Sunday, was lured to her death by some men who telephoned her in response to her advertisement for a place as nurse. This is now the conclusion of the police. Her tattered clothes, strewn for a half a mile along the road approaching the prairie, and the bruises on the body indicated that her death had come only after she had made a hard struggle.

A tall, thin, sallow-faced man walked into the circle of bright light cast by the electric lamps of the Third Avenue, New York, moving theatre last night, and drawng a revolver, made a murderous attack on Dora Stravitz, 12-year-old daughter of the theatre's proprietor. Two bullets struck her, one in the shoulder and the other in the hip. She was seriously injured. The police had difficulty saving the man from the vengeance of a mob which quickly gathered. The prsoner gave his name as Benjamin Roy Stiergeon, a printer, 27 years old, living on the East Side. His act was set down as that of a demented man.

Walter Winteroll, of East Orange, N. J., died of stab wounds yesterday the victim of his own practical joke. Winteroll had heard that his friend Adolph Freytag, was afraid in the dark. Aproaching Freytag on a street corner a few nights ago he drew a handkerchief over his face, and, creeping up, unobserved, he ordered Freytag to throw up his hands. Freytag, terrified, plunged a knife into Winteroll's abdomen, inflicting mortal wounds. Freytag was turned over to the county prosecutor. He is crazed with grief.

Francisco Valle, a young artist, was thrown into a sewer of Milan, Italy, on Cathedral Square more than a month ago by a band of Apaches, who found him asleep. He gradually worked himself through the sewers from one end of the city to the other and finaly emerged from an opening into the river a day or two ago. During his involuntary journey he lived on refuge from the city, and when found was utterly exhausted. He looked like a skeleton and was nearly blind.

Fourteen passengers were killed and twenty-eight injured yesterday when the express from Kief to St. Petersburg collided with a stalled locomotive. Alexander J. Guckhoff, president of the Duma, is reported to be among the victims.

STATE FAIR IS IN FULL SWING

Difficult Task to Put Exhibits in Assigned Places.

GROUND RENT HIGH.

Vast Crowds Surge Through Enclosure—Fairfax Says it is Greatest Fair in Virginia's History.

Richmond, Oct. 7.—Without ostentation or ceremony the portrals of the eighth annual edition of the Virginia State Fair were thrown open to an expectant public yesterday morning, revealing a show, the equal of which has never before been staged in the South.

In every department—educational exhibits, farm products, free attractions and the merry midway shows—the fair management has more than lived up to its promises to the public, and the show was complete in every detail when the curtain went up yesterday morning. There was no detail lacking beyond a slight hitch in the afternoon program of the free attractions, due to a delayed train bringing some of the shows, but with two exceptions the show—fully as good as the best two-ring circus extant—was given intact. The aviator failed to aviate by reason of an accident to his arm; but the aeronaut furnished a sufficient number of thrills to account for any disappointment that might have lingered in the minds of the crowd.

The attendance fell short of the opening day last year—if offhand figures can be taken as evidence. There are no official figures available yet. The opening day throng last year was estimated at between 10,000 and 12,000 people; estimates of yesterday's crowd placed is at 7,000. Official figures may change this estimate.

A program that could not have been bettered by Barnum & Bailey's circus in its balmy days, was offered the crowd that sat in the big grandstand yesterday afternoon, a d was repeated before a crowd as large last night.

The pyrotechnic display last night —"The Battle of Santiago,"—was the most brilliant Richmond ever saw—and having passed through two campaigns recently Richmond has had some pyrotechnics. The daylight fireworks, if more boisterous were novel and effective.

The midway shows and the refreshment stands were in full bloom yesterday and a few of the paddle games essayed to open for business, though the crowds were not large enough to justify the operation of all of them. Industrial hall and the exhibits of stock and agricultural products were liberally patronized. From an educational standpoint it is the greatest fair Virginia ever held.

Tomorrow is Richmond Day and with the holiday in the public schools and the half-holiday with the merchants, the record crowd in the history of the institution is to be expected.

SURPRISED BY PAYNE.

Game Warden A. J. Payne, of Fairfax county, while on a curise in his motorboat last Sunday, saw five residents of Prince William county, violating the law by gunning in Belmont Bay on Sunday. They retired to the Prince William side of the bay, but the game warden turned the plow of his boat in that direction, and having landed he warned the Nimrods of the penalty of violating the law. The men (one of whom was an officeholder,) plead guilty, but stated tha tthey were ignorant of the law. They assured the game warden that they would leave their guns come on Sunday in future.

COMMITTEE MEETS.

Large Attendance Last Night in Rooms of Chamber of Commerce.

The executive committees appointed by the board of trustees of the Alexandria Hospital building met in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last night, and organized by electing Mr. A. D. Brockett chairman and Mr. J. Y. Williams secretary.

Many of those present reviewed the history of the hospital from its inception to the present time, and told of the many deeds of love and efficient management of the lady managers.

Sub committees were appointed to perfect detailed information about the past present and future needs of the hospital. Every assurance was given of the interest of the citizens of this city in the proposed movement and it was generally conceded that the present organization, with the equipment of literature and energy, will be met by liberal contributions that will make possible such a hospital as Alexandria now needs and must have.

The sub committees will meet at an early day with the trustees and lady managers to further the plans of the executive committee.

Practical remarks were made during the evening by Messrs. Isaac Eichberg, James Bayne, W. B. Smoot, J. Y. Williams, C. S. T. Burke, Arthur Herbert, J. W. Roberts, R. S. Jones, and others.

Messrs. R. D. Brumback and R. E. Knight were added to the executive committee.

TRADES COUNCIL.

A well-attended meeting of the Alexandria Trades Council was held last night at which addresses were made by James O'Connell and P. J. Conlon. The former was elected delegate to the general convention to be held at Seattle in November.

CASHIER SHORT $26,000.

W. O. Lucas Arrested on Warrant Charging Embezzlement.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 7.—William O. Lucas, formerly cashier of the Kansas City branch of the Cudahy Packing Company, was charged with embezzlement in a state warrant yesterday afternoon. Lucas was arrested Sunday. The surety company that bonded Lucas estimated that a shortage of $26,000 will be shown. The warrant charges the embezzlement of $888.11, this being the amount of a check which it is alleged was misappropriated by Lucas.

Lucas disappeared September 23, while an investigation of the Cudahy books was in progress. It was alleged peculations charged against the former cashier have extended over the last eight years.

Lucas had been with the company 20 years. He is widely known in sporting circles and was a member of the American Bowling Congress.

MANN WOULD STOP HOUSE WHEELS

Objects to President Wilson Keeping House in Session.

INSISTS ON QUORUM.

Minority Leader Serves Notice on Democrats—Urgent Deficiency Bill Said to be in Danger.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Threatening to make a point of no quorum and block the legislative wheels of the House, Minority Leader Mann is back in town, after a brief visit to Chicago, and will have to be smoothed down if the House is to consider the urgent deficiency appropriation bill this afternoon.

Mr. Mann doesn't relish the way President Wilson is keeping Congress in session, and he says a quorum must be present to do business if no adjournment is taken.

"I served notice on the Democratic leaders some time ago I would demand a quorum to consider important legislation," said Mr. Mann. "A quorum has been on hand heretofore, and must be in the future. Furthermore, if President Wilson is going to insist without reason in keeping Congress in session continuously, I am willing to aid him by seeing that Congress is actually here—ate least a working majority of the members in our body."

Mr. Mann says if the Democrats will agree to an adjournment or thirty-day recess, he will withhold his points of no quorum. He asserts every sensible man knows there is no immediate prospect of currency legislation, and that both Democrats and Republicans want to go home.

The urgent deficiency bill is in danger because of the large number of absent House members. The bill carries about $4,000,000 to supply deficiency appropriations needed by the various government departments. It comes back to the House today with various Senate amendments, and if Mr. Mann makes his point of no quorum, and a majority of the House membership doesn't materialize, the bill may be held up indefinitely.

House leaders are endeavoring to get absentees back, and a bare quorum may be assembled this afternoon, but the chances appeared against it, as noses are being counted early today. The House members are tired out and many left for their homes as soon as the tariff bill was signed, disregarding the hint of the leaders that a quorum might be needed to send the urgent deficiency bill to conference.

With only 163 members of the House present—fifty-two less than a quorum—Speaker Pro Tem Sherley today ordered the sergeant-at-arms to arrest all absent members and bring them back.

DAMAGE BY STORM.

Loss in Several Valley Counties Will Amount to Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Winchester, Va., Oct. 7.—Belated reports from the storm-stricken sections of Frederick and Shenandoah Counties, in which great damage was done earlier in the week to apples and farms generally by hail, indicate that the first reports were by no means exaggerated. In fact, it now appears that they were underestimated, as each additional item of news from the devastated area only serves to increase the amount of damage. It is now estimated that the loss will reach nearly $100,000 in the southern portion of Frederick county, the county of Shenandoah, from one end to the other, and in various parts of Rockingham county, and Jefferson and Bekeley counties of West Virginia. The great commercial orchards in the apple belt just north,east and northwest of Winchester, however, escaped the fury of the storm, no hail falling in those localities. But between Kernstown and Strasburg no orchard west of the Valley Turnpike escaped being stripped not only of millions apples of a high grade ready for the market, but the hail stones, some of which were as large as goose eggs, and driven with terrific force, killed thousands of chickens and young turkeys; injured horses and cattle, which became panic-stricken, and almost exterminated the English sparrows. In many of the orchards men had been at work only half a day harvesting the crop. Early in the evening the hailstones broke without warning and swept everything before it. Every house in the path of the storm was damaged, the hail breaking windows and allowing the rain to pour in in torrents. A number of barns were struck by lightning and destroyed, along with crops of grain, hay, straw and farm implements. The fruit men in the district visited by the storm now fear great loss will result later on by reason of the fact that the hail tore much bark off the trees, as well as thousands of branches.

The storm was most disastrous of the kind which any record has been kept in this section of Virginia and West Virginia, and the individual losses are felt keenly by those in the stricken area.

DID NOT SHOW ANGER AT WILSON

Martin and Swanson Deny They Left White House In Rage.

VISIT WAS PLEASANT.

President's Opposition to Provisions Taking Deputy Collectors From Civil Service List.

Washington, October 7. — Senators Martin and Swanson denied last night the report that they left the White House "in a rage" following a conference with President Wilson regarding patronage matters, during which the President declared he had decided to appoint John M. Hart, of Roanoke, as internal revenue collector for Western Virginia.

Both Senators said they called on President Wilson by appointment and discussed patronage, tariff, currency and several other matters. They declared that their visit was of a pleasant nature, and related to general matters, and that the conference did not go so far as to mention names.

It is expected within a few days the matter of appointing collectors for the eastern and western district of Virginia will be taken up, now that the tariff bill is out of the way. The collectors have no term of office and can be removed at any time. It is reported on good authority that President Wilson has decided to heed the voice of those who fear a return to the spoils system and will do all in his power to defeat the Overman amendment, taking deputy collectors and marshals out of the civil service.

Senator Martin, of Virginia , and Representative Fitzgerald, chairmen of the Senate and House appropriations committee, respectively, called at the White House today. President Wilson urged them to defeat the Overman amendment. Civil Service Commissioner McIlhenny and Gallowat urged the president to protest against the amendment.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

PASTOR FLAYS THE

Richmond Preacher Draws Between Society and Slu Gamblers.

Richmond,Va., Oct. 7.—The parallel between the fashionable West End bridge artist and the skilfull manipulator of the "bones" in a slum crap game was drawn Sunday night by the Rev. H.D.C.Maclachland, pastor of the Seventh Street Christian Church, and he played no favorites but called a spade a spade. He declared that the rich gambler had less excuse than his poor ival in taking speculateive chances and emphasized that portion of his text which said: "Unto him whom much is given much will be expected."

Dr. Maclachlan announced as his subject, "Do the Upper Ten Need to be Evangelized?"

During the course of his sermon the minister scored in no uncertain terms the present fad in fashionable dress and said the Young Woman's Christian Association had to be moved from Franklin street on account of the distasteful parade of fashionable dress which would have a tendency to make the working girl dissatisfied with her lot. He scathingly denounced the turkey trot, tango and other such dances and did not spare the Sunday golfer who neglected to attend divine services but kept away from the Sunday school some boy who would no doubt have been there but for the fact that he had to act as caddy at forty cents a round.

Showing the need of uplift for the poor the minister continued by saying. "But do the well-to-do need the gospel too? Is it only the poor man who drinks to excess and does it make any difference whether one loses one's wits and self-respect on champagne or on barrel-house whiskey? Are there no automobiles carrying young men into destruction? Are there no vulgar obscene dances making havoc of innocence? Is gambling any the less gambling because it takes the form of poker or auction bridge? Are there no foolish mothers in society so called who are just as careless of their daughters' moral and spiritual welfare as the mothers of the slums and with far less excuse, for they do not have to bend over a wash tub ten hours out of twenty-four. Is it any the less theft when your neighbor's pocket is picked under form of law and in the name of high finance than if you were to knock him in the head and take away his "roll?"

"And with the gambling goes the use of stimulants among women. Everybody knows that it is alarmingly on the increase. At the springs you can see the beautiful young girls —Virginia women—sit down to their highballs and mint juleps in public, mind you, and some of them go into the bar itself and drink there. Which is more in keeping with the live ideals of womanhood, to cast a vote or drink a cocktail in a public bar?"

Churches Have Booths at Fair.

Richmond, Oct. 9.—The largest first-day crowd in years attended the opening of the Virginia State Fair here yesterday.

Every inch of space on the Midway and in the industrial building is occupied, while the live stock, poultry and farm products buildings are taxed to capacity.

Despite the fight against liquor on the grounds many church booths are doing business.

WATCHING TWO COMETS.

ky Gazer in Virginia Keeping Tab on Wanderers.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 7.—Dr. S. A. Mitchell, the new professor of astronomy at the University of Virginia, observed Saturday night and Sunday night the Delavan-Westphal comet which was discovered in the Argentine Republic on September 26 by Delavan. Since then the comet has brightened in appearance and at the present time is visible in a four-inch telescope, in spite of the moonlight. Now it is in the constellation Equuleus and is slowly moving northwest. This comet is not a new comet, but is a reappearance of a comet last seen in 1852. It is known as Westphal's comet. Its period about the sun is accurately known and amounts to 61.1 years.

Professor Mitchell observed the comet with the 26-inch telescope at the Leander McCormick Observatory and describes it as a fairly bright comet, showing a slight tail and one readily distinguishable from the faint stars around it by showing nebulosity. This comet will probably remain visible for some time, even in a small telescope.

Another comet observed Sunday night by Professor Mitchell was a comet discovered on September 1 by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, at South Hero, Vt. Since its discovery this comet has rapidly increased in brightness and last night was four and a half times as bright as when it was discovered. This comet is likewise visible in a small telescope, and can readily be picked up by anyone possessing a moderate knowledge of astronomy. At present it is in the constellation of Cepheus in a rather bright portion of the Milky Way. It is moving southeast and will be visible for over a month to come. It is following very closely an orbit calculated for it by Professor Leushner, of the University of California. Its position for tomorrow night, October 7, will be 21 hours 52 minutes of right ascension and 58 degrees and 28 minutes north declination. This comet, like the Delavan-Westphal comet, shows a marked nebulosity and is readily picked up by the telescope.

Professor Mitchell has lately come to the University of Virginia as the new director of the Leander McCormick Observatory as successor to Professor Ormond Stone. Since his arrival in Charlottesville he has been wiring the telescope in order to make it more convenient and these observations of the comets are the first that Dr. Mitchell has been able to make since his arrival in Virginia. He has come here direct from the Yerkes Observatory, where there is the largest telescope in the world, and he finds the object glass on the Virginia telescope equal to the best that has ever been made.

TWO ESCAPE DEATH.

Engine Strikes Buggy, Throwing Occupants Ten Feet in Air.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 7.—James E. Hart, of 912 East Leigh street, a member of the City Democratic Committee, and Frank J. Hill, a machinist, of 2 Hill street, Chelsea Hill, had a narrow escape from death early Saturday morning when a buggy they occupied was struck by a yard engine on the Seaboard Air Line Railway at the crossing at Seventh and Hospital streets. Both were thrown nearly ten feet in the air and struck the ground with great force. The vehicle was demolished. Hill, who was removed to the Memorial Hospital, escaped with a fractured hip, while Hart, who was taken home, was hurt about the face and leg. The exact extent of his injuries, it was said, could not be determined until today, when it may be necessary for an X-ray examination to be made.

Hart was on his way home from his saloon at 1425 North Seveneenth street, and had with him at the time about $1,500 in cash, which was in a small handbag. It had been his custon to drive home each night.

DEATH OF R. D. APPERSON.

Was Formerly President of Lynchburg, (Va.) Traction Co.

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 7.—Richard D. Apperson, until three months ago president and general manager of the Lynchburg Traction and Light Company, who had been ill of tuberculosis for three years, died yesterday at Santa Monica, Cal., where he went three months ago. He was a native of Mount Sterling, Ky., and was 50 years old.

KILLED BY NEGRO.

J. Will Bryant Meets Death During Sunday Evening Row.

Martinsville, Va., Oct. 7.—J. Will Bryant, a white man, sixty years old, was shot and killed near Sanville, in the western part of Henry county, about 7 o'clock Sunday night. The shooting occurred at the home of Bud Foster, near Sanville, and whisky is said to have been at the bottom of the trouble. Henry Scott,, a young mulatto, who did the shooting, is reported to have been trying to shoot another man in the crowd when he shot Bryant.

Bryant was taken to his home, but died before reaching there.

An inquest was held at Bassett today. The neighborhood in which the killing occurred is remote from the telephone, and particulars are hard to obtain.

THE INSOLENCE OF WEALTH.

In Winston Churchill's novel, "The Inside of the Cup," which deals with the deadening influence of wealth upon the church, one of the most attractive characters is Asa Waring, a fine representative of the best type of Americanism, which refuses to crook the knee to mere riches, especially riches acquired by methods that will not bear the light. In defending the hero of the story, a high-minded young clergyman, whom the plutocratic vestrymen of his church are trying to force to resign because of his condemnation of their practices, Mr. Waring is made to say:

Perhaps I have lived too long. I have lived to see honorable, upright men deprived of what was rightfully theirs, driven from their livelihood by the rapacity of those who strive to concentrate the wealth and power of the nation into their hands. I have seen this power gathering strength, stretching its arm little by little over the institutions I fought to preserve, and which I cherish, over our policies, over our government; yes, and even over our courts. I have seen it poisoning the business honor in which we formerly took such a pride; I have seen it re-establishing a slavery more pernicious than that which millions died to efface. I have seen it compel a subservience which makes me ashamed as an American to witness.

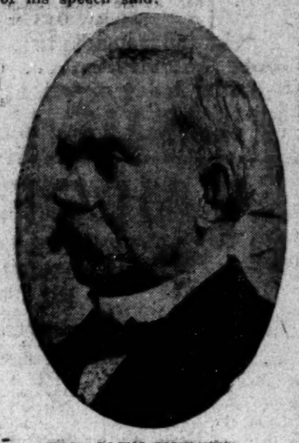
The scene of the novel is St. Louis, but it applies equally well to all cities. There must be, as a cotemporary says, many Asa Warings, in every place who have viewed with alarm and disgust the growing power of wealth in politics. So far has this gone that we see the control of great parties in the hands of a few men who have no qualifications for leadership beyond the millions they have accumulated, largely at the expense of the public or money made by shady acts of their ancestors. Without intellectual pre-eminence of any kind, without any interest in the higher problems of government and entirely without sympathy for the humanitarian movements of the day, they have taken possession of the machinery of political organizations and by means of their money, which attracts a swarm of parasites eager to pick up a few crumbs, operating them solely for their own personal benefit. It is a degrading spectacle which should arouse the indignation of every believer in American ideals.

The charge against Guiseppe Pomaro, of Youngstown, O., of sending a threatening letter to President Wilson, has been dismissed.

STUART PRAISES MURPHY.

Next Governor Refers to Life of Richmond Hotel Man.

Many beautiful tributes were paid to Colonel John Murphy, during the visit of the Virginia Press Association to Richmond on the occasion of the opening of the new Murphy's Hotel, Henry C. Stuart, the next Governor of Virginia, in the course of his speech said:



COL. JOHN MURPHY.

"It is my pleasure to call your attention to the conspicuous example of the life and character of our honored host, who landed in America a poor Irish boy, sixty-one years ago, yet stranger though he was, no one fought more willingly, or today more highly cherishes the sacred cause for which Southern blood was shed. I congratulate him at this milestone he has reached on the pathway of life that he has knit himself accurately into the confidence and esteem and affection of the people of Virginia. Those possibilities for manhood are with us yet. Many a boy who followed the Marathon runners through the streets today will develop into the men who will be the makers of our State in the future."

MURPHY'S NEW HOTEL.

THE DIVORCE ISSUE.

Rev. Mr. Slattery Gives Views on Coming Episcopal Convention.

New York, Oct. 7.—The general Episcopal convention, which will be held in this city during the week, is attracting wide attention and it is thought the divorce question and others of great importance will be discussed at length. Bishop Murray will be among the many leaders who will participate in the proceedings.

In the opinion of Rev. Charles Lewis Slattery, rector of Grace Church, and one of the prominent members of the denomination, there is to be no change of the attitude by the Protestant Episcopal Church toward the marriage of divorced persons.

"In my opinion," he said, "the present canon is unlikely to be changed at the convention which meets next Wednesday. The general sentiment of the clergy at present is opposed to remarrying after divorce.

"As a mater of fact there are a few divorced people married by Episcopal clergymen. The present church canon reads that only the innocent party in a divorce action may remarry, and then only after a year has elapsed. The clergyman performing the ceremony must appeal to his bishop and the bishop in turn must appeal to an ecclesastical lawyer."

Neither did Dr. Slattery think the convention would change the name of the church.

"Christian unity is incomparably more important than the choice of a name such as the Protestant Episcopal church or the American Episcopal Church," he said. "Then, too, we have never had a better name suggested than the present one."

Dr. Slattery added that some persons feel that the word Protestant interferes with the church's appeal to those from the Latin Catholic countries. Others, he thought, feel that the ford Episcopal puts too much emphasis on the one order of the ministry."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Riotous scenes yesterday attended the arrest of Annie Kenney, an official of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant wing of the suffragists, just as she was starting to make a speech at the weekly meeting of suffragists at the Pavilion Music Hall, London. Suffragists in the audience flung themselves upon the police in an effort to rescue their leader but were driven back. Pandemonium broke loose in the audience. Scores tried to work their way to the stage, while others tore up the seats and hurled whatever missiles they could lay hands on at the policemen. Eight persons, including a clergyman and another man, were arrested during the disorder outside the pavilion.

James Convoy, of Philadelphia, 40 years old, yesterday morning shot and killed his wife, Mary, 39 years old, and fired a bullet into his own brain, dying two hours later. The shooting occurred on the steps of the St. Charles' Catholic Church. The man recently was released from prison and had not been living with his wife. He met her as she was standing on the street corner waiting for a car to take her to work. Her 13-year-old daughter, Mary, was with her, and witnessed the shooting. The police say the murderer was intoxicated.

Two highwaymen held up Carl A. Koelb, paymaster at the mill of the American Velvet Company, at Stonington, Conn., as he was driving from the First National Bank to the mill yesterday, and robbed him of a bag containing $10,600 in cash and bills, two weeks' pay roll at the mill They escaped, but in searching for them later the bag of cash was found intact behind a stone wieth less than a quarter of a mile from the scene of the robbery. The two robbers are believed to be cornered in the woods near the Stonington cemetery.

Two men were kuled in a headon collision between a passenger train and a freight of the Baltimore and Ohio yesterday, near Summerfield, Ill. The mail car and express caught fire The wreck occurred in a heavy fog Engineer Alberty, of the passenger train, was caught under his engine and killed. A tramp riding the front of the mail car was crushed to death

Because her 40-year-old fiance with whom she had had a slight disagreement failed to attend a party at her home at Bellville, N. J., Sunday night, Miss Clara Courter, a pretty 18-year-old girl, excused herself to her guests, went to her room pinned a red rose over her heart and fired a bullet into her head. She lied early yesterday.

PRESIDENT AND CIVIL SERVICE

Wilson Opposes Exempting Deputy Collectors And Marshals.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson has indicated that he did not favor exempting from civil service deputy collectors of internal revenue and deputy United States marshals provided in the urgent deficiency bill as passed by the Senate. He told callers it was originally intended that only special agents should be exempted because of their necessarily confidential relations with collectors.

The Civil Service Commissioner protested to President Wilson, characterizing the exemption as detrimental to the civil service. Objections have also been raised by many organizations.

Commissioners McIlhenny and Galway conferred with the president and an effort to amend the provision in the House was suggested.

Administration leaders in the House, anxious over the urgent deficiency bill, which will come over from the Senate tomorrow, are sending out appeals to absent members to return to Washington and stay until the bill as amended can be sent to conference and a conference report approved.

The amendment in the Senate abolishing the Commerce Court, but retaining the judges thereof on the circuit bench, is expected to cause considerable discussion and Republicans are preparing again to attack the provision removing deputy United States marshals and deputy internal revenue collectors from the civil service.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years. HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble

One of the many reasons why Lung Trouble is so difficult to fight is because the disease is often of a very flattering nature. The patient may look well, but in reality is fast losing strength by continued night sweats, fever and cough. These symptoms should be checked as quickly as possible. Eckman's Alterative is beneficial in checking fever and night sweats and it has brought about many complete recoveries. Read this case:—

305 W. 36th St., New York.

"Gentlemen: I am writing you this testimonial that others may know what your Alterative has done for me. Since I was a very young woman I was a sufferer from Bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight and my doctor told me if they were not checked I would have Lung Trouble. Miss Mary Korhamer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alterative and insisted that I try it. I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy."

(Affidavit). MRS. ROSA YOELPEL.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

KNEW MOLLY PITCHER.

Mrs. Samuel Sipe, of Carlisle, Celebrates Her 101st Birthday.

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Samuel Sipe, who was a child friend of Molly Pitcher and a resident of Carlisle for 94 years, celebrated her one hundred and first birthday here Sunday. Mrs. Sipe vividly recalls history spanning a century and is in possession of all of her faculties.

She recalls Molly Pitcher, the heroine of Monmouth, and refutes the assertion that she is buried in any other place than in Carlisle, where memorials have been placed over the woman's grave.

Mrs. Sipe was born in Switzerland in 1812 and came to Carlisle when she was eight years old, when this place was but the hunting-ground for settlers in the Cumberland Valley.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Six hundred members of the Ithaca Woman's Christian Temperance Union are indignant over the treatment accorded the bronze statue of Purity, which for years has adorned the top of a drinking fountain in front of Ithaca's City Hall.

In a rush between freshmen and sophomores late Saturday night the sophomores compelled the freshmen to mount the drinking fountain and plant warm salutes on Purity's lips. Too many freshmen tried the osculatory stunt at once and Purity fell from grace, badly damaging one leg and spraining an ankle. She now lies in a back room in the police station. The drinking fountain which cost $700, was presented to the city by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the members of the union in this city promise to make vigorous expression to the subject to the university.

Do You Need any Advice From a Printer?

If you are a business man there are lots of matters that come before you in the Printers' line that need attention. Possibly you want to send out a letter soliciting trade.

Again, you may want to prepare an attractive circular setting forth the advantages of the lines of goods you have for sale. And still again you may have a line of goods that you feel sure the public would buy if they only appreciated the advantages of your particular line.

You know that you want these things and at the same time you feel that you cannot spare the time to study out just what you wish to say. We know this because a lot of business men in Alexandria have told us so.

The next time this happens to be the case with you, Telephone the BARRETT PRESS and a member of the firm will call to see you and help you out on the matter. Our many years of experience is at your service. Do not hesitate to do this, because that is our business.
